Radon Gas

3.14	Do records indicate that the property is in a "Radon Affected Area" as identified by Public Health England or Public Health Wales?	MEDIUM
------	--	--------

Radon is a naturally occurring gas that can affect land and property across the United Kingdom. It typically has a low impact, but at certain percentages determined to be above the Action Level by the Health Protection Agency or its predecessor the National Radiation Protection Board, there may be recommended steps. The vendor should state whether the radon concentration has been measured in the property; whether the result was at or above the Action Level and if so whether remedial measures were installed and whether the radon concentration was re-tested to assess the effectiveness of the remedy.

New buildings in High Risk areas are required to have preventative measures. The developer or vendor of any property constructed since 1988 should be able to state if protective measures were included during the build.

Datasource
1	Yes, the property is in an area where 1-3% of homes are estimated to be at or above the Action Level. See the informative paragraph below for further information that sellers are recommended to provide.
